Item 2 - Relationships & Services

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

Paragon Capital Management, LLC strives to meet with clients (in-person, phone, video), no less than annually, to provide investment advice, develop strategies and define goals as well as regularly monitor investments as part of our standard services. Assets are managed on a discretionary basis. Discretionary authority allows Paragon Capital Management, LLC to buy and sell securities without asking in advance and without material limitations whereas non-discretionary authority would be limited to offering advice, but you would make the decision to buy or sell. Paragon Capital Management, LLC receives compensation by charging a quarterly on-going asset management fee. Advisory services are not limited to proprietary products or a limited menu of products. A minimum investment amount is generally $500,000 however, smaller accounts may be accepted based on several factors including the client relationship.

Conversation Starters: Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not? How will you choose investments to recommend to me? What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

Item 3 - Fees, Costs, Conflicts and Standard of Conduct

What Fees will I Pay?

Fees and costs affect the value of your account over time. Paragon Capital Management, LLC charges a management fee based on a percentage of assets under management. The asset-based fee reduces the value of your account and will be deducted from your account quarterly. You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. Additional information about the fees charged can be found on page 5 of our ADV Part II A Brochure.

Paragon Capital Management, LLC has a fiduciary duty to manage an account in a cost-effective manner and considers custodian fees, account maintenance fees, fees related to mutual funds (12b-1 fees) and other transactional fees (ticket charges) and product-level fees when making investment recommendations. When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means, the more assets we manage the more fees we generate, different account types provide different compensation.

We pay referral fees to Schwab and to wealth managers. This fee is paid to encourage the management of new accounts and retention of accounts.

You could also open a brokerage account with a broker/dealer, where you pay a transaction-based fee, generally referred to as a commission, when the broker/dealer buys or sells an investment for you. With a broker/dealer, you can select investments, or the broker/dealer may recommend investments for your account, but the ultimate decision to buy or sell will be yours. A broker/dealer must act in your best interest and not place its interests ahead of your interest when recommending an investment or an investment strategy involving securities. When a broker/dealer provides any service to you, the broker/dealer must treat you fairly and comply with a number of specific obligations. Unless you and the broker/dealer agree otherwise, the broker/dealer is not required to monitor your portfolio on an ongoing basis. If you were to pay a transaction-based fee in a brokerage account, the more trades in your account, the more fees the broker/dealer charges you.

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser?

As an investment adviser, we always have a fiduciary duty to act in your best interest.

How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

Paragon Capital Management, LLC does not offer proprietary products, receive payments from third parties for investment advice, participate in a revenue sharing agreement or conduct principal trading. Our financial professionals are compensated with salary for servicing accounts and possible bonus compensation for generating new clients. The more assets you have in an advisory account, the more you will pay us. We therefore have an incentive to grow the assets in your account to increase our advisory fees. Additional information about conflicts of interest is available in our ADV 2A.

How do your financial professionals make money?

Financial Professionals are compensated based on a percentage of assets under management. The percentage charged is based on the scope and complexity of your account, the amount of time and expertise required as well as the account value.
